Jay, I'd be interested in discussing with you at your convenience. Will let you know the webinar info when I get it. Also there is another webinar this Thursday that looks interesting (and will now involve EPA's Anna Wildemann talking about the new memo). You can register for that as follows

Subject: Water Quality Trading Webinar

Hi Dave – I received your phone message. Some of us in the Victorville office of Region 6 are interested in attending the EPA water quality trading seminar planned for March 5, 2019.

Victorville Valley Wastewater Reclamation Authority (VWVRA) has been discussing water quality trading with the Lahontan Water Board for some years. The General Manager actually sent us the new EPA memo shortly after it was signed. I am having a difficult time to understand how we would apply such program in the Mojave Watershed, as they are the only NPDES wastewater discharger (excepting stormwater construction and industrial facilities). While it would be complex, I can foresee such program if groundwater were included (e.g. other wastewater dischargers and agricultural sites).

Please let us know the agenda, time, and webinar contact information as soon as its available.

Regards- Jay
